Residence Education Model

→ Educational Priority:
  • Students will become engaged learners contributing to inclusive communities both inside and outside of the residence halls

→ Learning Goals:
  • Academic growth
  • Personal Development
  • Diversity, Equity, & Inclusion

→ Resident Assistants
  • Hawk Talks
  • Community Building
Inclusive Communities

⇒ For students that live in our residence halls, we believe it is everyone’s responsibility to create and uphold an inclusive community.

⇒ An inclusive community is one in which:
  • The dignity of each human is recognized, valued and heard.
  • Everyone can be successful and has access to equitable resources and support.
  • People are safe to be themselves, make mistakes and learn from each other.
  • Each person has a sense of belonging and knows they matter through having their differences recognized and celebrated.
  • People are willing to recognize and address their behavior when it is harmful to the community.
Roommate Relationships

→ Talk with your roommate now:
  • Get to know one another
  • What to bring: housing.uiowa.edu/what-to-bring
  • When to move-in

→ Roommate agreement will occur within the first few weeks of the semester with Resident Assistants
  • COVID-19 precautions and plans
  • Conflict management
  • Creating a home for all roommates
Residence Hall Life

→ Safety and security
  • On-call emergency support

→ Packages and mail
→ Renter's insurance

→ Select policies:
  • Substance free
  • Respect your space and others
    • Vandalism
    • Noise
    • Guest policy

Talk About Talking

➔ Clarify Family Expectations
  • How often do you want to talk with your Hawkeye?
  • How often does your Hawkeye want to talk with you?

➔ Enhance Communication Skills
  • What is your communication style?
  • How can you improve when communicating with others?
  • How can family help you increase your communication skills?
Items to Discuss

→ What are you most excited about? What are you most nervous about?
→ What do you anticipate it will be like to share a room with someone?
→ Do you have any habits it may be helpful to let your roommates know about?
→ How do you feel about relationships and dating? How about significant other spending the night in your room?
→ What cultural differences and similarities might you and your roommate have?
→ Will you have a job on campus?
→ How will you manage your time?
→ What is the family budget for extra expenses?
→ How much can you charge to your U-Bill?
→ Do you know the name and number of your medical and renter’s insurance companies?
→ What are your plans for University breaks?
Expanding Expectations

- Your experience as a student living on campus is your own to create
- Roommate relationships take time to develop
- Conflict is normal and second chances can go a long way
Embrace Everyday Advocacy

→ Attend On Iowa! and hall events
  • Move-In is a part of On Iowa! and events begin the same time
→ Create a routine and schedule
→ Learn to read the Transit app and ride the Cambus.
→ Talk about your ADA or Dietary Accommodations as needed.
→ Foster the support team that you need
  • Homesickness is a real thing and everyone experiences it in their own way
  • Support team from UHD can include: RAs, Hall Coordinator, Embedded Therapists
Consider Your Goodbye

→ Move-in day goes incredibly quick!
→ Students: Think about how you would like this transition to begin
→ Family/Supporters: Think about what you want to say to your Hawkeye
  • Consider your feelings now so you can be fully present for all the excitement of move-in day.
